

Exercise Five (ACCESS)

Determining if your book is character-driven or plot-driven

Describe how your book is character, plot-driven or both. Go back over your notes and see if you have any clues there to help you. It's ok if your book changes as you work on it, it's completely normal for this to happen. Understanding what drives your book now is just a guide to help you develop it later on.

Describe in the space below what your book is:
