

Exercise Five – Character Life Line

In this exercise, use the timeline to cover as many of your main character's milestones as you can. Go from birth all the way to death or from birth to the start of the book, or just lay out key events from one very important year.

The Life of: _____

